Ezekiel 8:3; 11:1, 24; 37:1; 43:5 – visions.

Ezekiel 36:27; 37:14; 39:29 – God’s Spirit within Israel after captivity.

Joel 2:28-29 – God would pour out of His Spirit.

Micah 2:7 – is the Spirit of the Lord restricted?

Micah 3:8 – Micah filled with the Spirit of the Lord.

Haggai 2:5 – God’s Spirit with Israel post-captivity.

Zechariah 4:6 – the Spirit’s power.

Zechariah 7:12 – God had spoken by His Spirit through the prophets.

1. Every time the Holy Spirit is present in the Old Testament it is in connection with (1) creation, (2) revelation, or (3) inspiration. In other words, the Holy Spirit is never “just there” with someone. He was always involved with something miraculous.
2. There are prophecies in the Old Testament of the Holy Spirit being given to God’s servant to come, Jesus. Luke 3:21-23 and Acts 10:38 will shed light on this matter.
3. There is also a prophecy of the Spirit being “poured out” upon all flesh. The fulfillment of that prophecy is pin-pointed by Peter as the miraculous abilities given to him and the other apostles on the day of Pentecost as recorded in Acts 2:14-21.

The Holy Spirit in the Gospels

John 20:22 – John’s “great commission.”

1. In the gospels, the Holy Spirit is involved in many miraculous events.
2. Several people are said to have been “filled with the Spirit” which always led to a revelation of something.
3. Very specific promises were given to the apostles in connection with the Holy Spirit – all miraculous – that they would be guided into all truth by the Spirit after Jesus left the earth.
4. The baptism of the Holy Spirit was a promise spoken to the apostles and fulfilled (Acts 1:8; 2:1-4).
5. The Holy Spirit is said to be involved in the new birth (Jn. 3:3-8).
6. Baptism in water for the remission of sins also puts one into a relationship with all members of the Godhead (Matt. 28:18-20).

The Holy Spirit in Acts

1. The miraculous workings of the Holy Spirit are seen throughout Acts.
2. The baptism of the Holy Spirit, as promised by Jesus, was fulfilled in Acts 2 with the apostles and Acts 10 with the Gentiles.
3. The “gift of the Holy Spirit” (Acts 2:38) is often taught as the “ordinary measure” of the Holy Spirit to the Christian today. However, when coupled with Acts 10-11, it is clear that that is not the case. The Gentiles received “the gift of the Holy Spirit” (10:44-46; 11:15-17) which is also called “the same gift He gave us.”
4. Acts also demonstrates that the Holy Spirit is a divine being, not a feeling or influence (5:3, 9; 7:51; 8:29; 10:19; 11:12; 16:6-7; 21:11).
